WELCOME TO

LEOPALLOOZA

THE GREATEST HOUSE PARTY...IN A FIELD

IT'S THE FINAL EDITION!

The weekend we never thought would come.
The big one. The tear-shedder.
The Last Ever Leopallooza.

The last 18 years have been a blast. We never dreamed that our little party in a field would grow this big. Built by rudgets, using recycled, sustainable and waste materials, carried on the shoulders of those who gave their time, skills and energy, often for free, to help us get to where we are; it's been quite the ride.

We can't lie. We're a little teary as we write this.

Exciting times lie ahead. But for now, raise a stack cup, grab a mate, toast the good times, and help us give our old pal Leopallooza one last, epic send off.

Be kind to the site, and everybody in it. Let's give it everything, and make one final batch of Leopallooza memories to treasure forever.

Thanks for coming, and most importantly of all, enjoy!

THE LEOPALLOOZA 'PLEASE BE LOVELY' GUIDELINES

- No glass. Glass isn't allowed anywhere at The Wyldes - it's very bad for the bare feet, tyres, and wildlife who call the fields home after you leave.
- Personal alcohol: weekend campers aged 18 and over may bring alcohol into the campsites. Each person may bring 24 cans of beer/cider/premixed spirit cans OR 3 litres of wine. No straight spirits.
- No personal alcohol in the main arenas or Palloozaville.
- No drugs. We have a zero-tolerance policy towards drugs. If you are caught using or in possession of illegal drugs or legal highs including nitrous oxide (NOS) along with associated items including, but not limited to, balloons, CO2 dispensers, and whipped cream dispensers, our friendly but firm security team will immediately ask you to leave the site.
- Know your fire exits! See the map in this programme to find your closest.
- We have a zero-tolerance policy on homophobic, transphobic and racial hate. We are proud to be an inclusive venue and if anyone is caught being verbally or physically abusive, they'll be escorted off our site.
- No pets of any kind. As much as we love furry friends here (we really, really do) we're afraid they're not allowed anywhere on site. It's a licence thing. (If you require a guide dog please drop us a line)
- Camping: please be considerate of your neighbours. They're either friends, or friends you haven't met yet. Love them like your own.
- Gas camping stoves are allowed, but please use safely. Never cook inside your tent, and always share your sausages.
- Disposable BBQs, coal BBQs and fires are not allowed.
- Look 25: our bars run a strict Look 25 policy. The baby-faced amongst you will need to bring some ID with you.
- Wristband: this is the most important bit of jewellery you will ever wear! Don't lose it, or you will risk having to buy another to get anywhere.
- We run a landfill-free site, which requires your help. There are bins all around the site, which we thoroughly sort. 90% of our waste is recycled with the remaining 10% made into fuel pellets. Please use those bins.
- Our neighbours generously allow this party to happen, and we're really grateful! Please be considerate, drive sensibly and keep noise to a minimum after hours.
- Valuables: we find lost keys, wallets, phones, and the occasional bemused hippy every year. Keep your valuables somewhere safe. And should you lose something, speak to security or head to the merch store in Palloozaville.
- No bad attitudes. We've won awards for being a friendly and welcoming festival... we're proud of that. And so should you be. Well done!
- Please leave by Monday, 2pm. The deer and hares want their home back!
- The hashtags for this year are #LastEverLeo #Leopalooza

You read all the way to the end. You're our favourite.

THE QUIET RIOT

Join us for a midnight boogie in Leopalooza's very own silent disco. It's going to GO OFF... just very, very quietly.

Choose between 70s, 80s, 90s, and 00s classics, or go for something a little more modern. Then dance to your little heart's content.

DINKIE'S

It's one in, one out. It's shirts and shoes*. The queue lasts for days and it's a massive disappointment when you finally get in. Once you finally accept the inevitable regret and self-loathing... you'll have the best time ever! Just like all the greatest nightclubs in the world.

Dinkie's is the world's smallest nightclub (probably), but that doesn't stop it being one of the best (definitely). This year it's had a full on facelift and it's shiner and more sparkly than ever.

*(any shirt will suffice. This is Leo, not China Whites).

ROGUEWOOD

Home of Rogues, bandits, beasts, wolves, witches, and wide-eyed wanderers, Roguewood (created by Cornwall's multi award-winning Rogue Theatre) is a story world and a forest of activities for those who seek adventure.

Among the trees you'll find family yoga, giant bubbles, and circus play as well as rocket launching, storytelling, and forest crafts.

Saturday and Sunday will see performances of their theatre show Wild Inside, a riotous collection of short fairy tales, dark folklore, and cautionary tales, featuring Rogue's unique storytelling, highly visual immersive theatre, dance, live music, and a wicked sense of humour.

Rogue's productions are truly perfect for ages - children, families, and adults who hear the call of the wild!

PALLOOZAVILLE

Have a wander through Palloozaville, our own little village full of the finest foods and festival goodies you can dream of.

Get yourself down there to stuff your face with tasty treats, glittering garms, and exclusive merchandise from our beloved traders and our very own shop, featuring our snazzy new merch range. Or go play, with family fun from Super Pirates, funfair rides, face painting, and Skate Ramps. There's something for everyone!

AARDMAN

Also in Palloozaville, we're delighted that the legends at iconic animation studio Aardman will be running model making workshops.

Come and make your very own Gromit, Shaun the Sheep, Feathers McGraw or Morph under the expert guidance of one of Aardman's pro creators.

Workshops are £10 per person and can't be booked in advance. All children must be accompanied by an adult.

THE LEFT SIDE

For the arty types, and the not so arty types! The Left Side is where you can find and unleash your creativity. Come and watch our as our decor team and artist Jamie Dominy draw out our collaborative mural on Friday, and help us paint it on Saturday.

Or come and hangout with our friends at The Pearl Exchange, where you can soothe your soul with hangover yoga, pick up talents in creative workshops and throw some shapes in their evening sessions.

PARTNERING WITH THE PEARL EXCHANGE

So much of what we do at The Wyldes is about celebrating friendships. Whether it's finding your newest dancing buddy in the crowd, or sharing the love (and ciders) with your best gang, we're all about those shiny, loving, human connections.

And we're so excited to be bringing back our amazing friends at The Pearl Exchange for a second year.

We've got a lot in common with the brilliant people there. We both love a bit of art, music, and culture, and we share a belief that connecting through shared experiences is great for supporting your mental wellbeing. We love what they're doing in Bude, and we're super excited that they're bringing their brilliant series of workshops back. Look out for stone carving, leather stamping, textiles and mindless mending, as well as hangover yoga and a chilled out vibe with DJs.

We also expanded our volunteer programme in collaboration with The Pearl Exchange this year. Following an application process through The Pearl Exchange, we welcomed a team of volunteers across creative and marketing briefs, who did some incredible work that you can see around site.

SATURDAY FANCY DRESS THEME

— THE LOST PARTY OF —

ATLANTIS

LOVE AN EXCUSE TO GET DRESSED UP?

Us too!

And this year our Saturday night fancy dress theme is The Lost Party of Atlantis. Get your shimmery sequins, mermaid tails, glow in the dark magic, and scaly gorgeousness ready. Or at least, your fisherman's beanie and oilskin.

For inspiration, fish through our moodboard.

GOODNIGHT...BUT NOT GOODBYE

Well this is it Friends of the Field. The final goodbye.

When we take a step back, it genuinely blows our collective minds when we consider how far the Leopallooza adventure has come since we started this thing all the way back there in 2006. We started out with little more than two telegraph poles and a tarpaulin, a friend who was happy to have his car set on fire (the best kind of friend), some cider, an old barbecue, and some very understanding neighbours. Now, almost 18 years and 14 Leopalloozas later, the neighbours are still very understanding, and we still burn the odd car, but everything else has changed. A lot!

Leopallooza became the catalyst for a journey that eventually created The Wyldes as a venue, itself now bringing some of the biggest names in music down to these cider-infused fields for their own big and very unique shows. It's also been quite the journey for those who've been heavily involved since the early years: blood has been split, tears have been shed, hair has gradually been lost, and hugs have often held things together when it seemed like nothing else could.

But now we're heading down a new, exciting, unmarked track. It's big, it's bold, and we'll be sharing more news very soon. But most importantly there's room for all of you to jump in for the ride.

As we draw the curtain for the very last time, we want to throw out the biggest thank you to the thousands of you who have supported this event over the years - all the OGs and the New-Gs, the buskers and the boujies, the rockers, the ravers, the phone and flag wavers, the moshers and moonwalkers, the slightly creepy band stalkers, the cosmic adventurers, and the smurfs who recycle the empty tents for us...heck, even all you beautiful and terribly misunderstood poi fans: all of you who have joined us for this incredible ride at any point within the last 18 years - we bloody love you. Always have, and always will.

This year we're gonna party harder than at any Leopallooza that's ever come before. See you down the front yeah? And bring the tissues.

TEAM 'PALLOOZA
